Day 3 Summit Trekking

The trek starts from the plateau at 2000 Meters along the ridge of Grand Canyon, crossing a small wadi and continuing along the rim of the Saydran Gorge, until joining a wadi, which leads to the first col at 2,700m. There are very good views towards the other side at this point. From the col, the path turns South and mainly follows the crest of the ridge; the tour allows spectacular views into Wadi Nakhar, the 'Grand Canyon', Wadi as Sahtan and Wadi Bani Awf, as well as fantastic views of Jabal Khawr and Jabal Misht to the West. It will be a long day hiking.

Day 4 Al Misfah – Burket A sharaf

After breakfast, start your overnight camping tour from the village of Misfah. Donkeys will be provided and used to carry the food and camping equipment. Trek through the gardens of Misfah and Wadis along the way to reach Aqpa Al-Hamra. The route is very scenic and provides ample of photo opportunities. The sunlight reflecting on the surrounding mountain ranges call for a beautiful camera click. After approximately 5 hours of trekking with the donkeys, we will reach Al-Sharaf at 2000 meters by afternoon. Setup camp for the evening. You are free to enjoy a short walk around the camp area to view the north face of the Al Hajar mountain (wadi Al Sahtan).
